

The Big, Fat Rat & Tiny Ant

By Kristian.s

It was a sunny, annoying morning as the rat boasted about his enormous body. "My legs are so long I could win a race in five seconds!" boasted the Big, Fat "Tiny Ant is so tiny that it would take him hours or even days to get to the finish line," said the rat continuing to boast. Tiny Ant said "that's not true" in a shy, sad voice. "Let's race then" said the Big, Fat Rat with a smirk on his face. Ant slowly nodded his head. As they started, the Fat Rat jiggled in the sunlight like jelly as Tiny Ant zoomed off as quickly as a flash, Fat Rat trailed behind him.

Ant had finished the course as Big, Fat Rat was half way but he got so tiered he looked like he was dying or having a nap, he couldn't even walk or run because he was so fat his weight forest him down to the ground . All the other animals started to laugh and gossip a rat getting outdone by the smallest ant on the planet.
